

UNIONS THINK PRESIDENT WILL SETTLE STRIKE

HARDING PROPOSED SETTLEMENT, EXPECTED TO FOLLOW IT UP

Predicted at Union Headquarters That the Train Service Unions Will Bring Pressure to Bear on Washington To Prevent Defeat of Shop Crafts

"Menace of a Huge Industrial Conflict—Greatest in History of the Country—Is In the Air," American Federation of Labor Officer Stated

By United Press

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Rail union chiefs were confident today that the president will not drop his efforts to settle the strike because of the refusal of the executives to accept his peace proposal.

Bert M. Jewell, president of the striking shopmen, and the executive committee waited for a reply to their message of acceptance, sent Wednesday night.

The union chiefs indicated that it was their firm belief that President Harding would not have proposed the settlement unless he intended to exert every effort to see that both sides accepted.

It was also predicted at union headquarters that the train service unions will bring pressure to bear on Washington to prevent defeat of the shopcrafts. It was even suggested that the big four may order a "self protection" strike as a last resort.

Leaders pointed out that defeat of the shopmen would cause increased demands from the roads for wage reductions and working rules of other railroad unions.

Life of Unionism at Stake

Washington, Aug. 4.—Believing that the very life of unionism is at stake in the fight between the railroad executives and striking shop craftsmen, organized labor is preparing to meet the situation with its full strength, it was made known to the United Press today.

"The menace of a huge industrial conflict—the greatest in the history of the country—is in the air," an American Federation of Labor official stated.

This official is known as a conservative, and generally opposed to the use of such weapons as sympathetic strikes now being urged on President Samuel Gompers by the heads of unions in all parts of the country.

But conservatives and radicals alike made no secret of the determination to support the shop craftsmen in a fight to the finish.

Labor's next move depends largely on the action of President Harding. Harding and his cabinet met today to decide whether the administration shall stand aside and permit the executives and the strikers to fight it out, or to take further steps for peace. The situation is so involved, however, that a decision on the next step may not be made for several days.

Eastern Carriers Help Southern Roads

New York, Aug. 4.—Eastern carriers sent aid today to four southern railroads hardest hit by the shopmen's strike.

Skilled workers were en route to the shops of the Chesapeake & Ohio, the Norfolk & Western, the Virginian and the Louisville & Nashville roads which serve non-union coal fields of the south.

Feeling the administration might see in the needs of this group fresh reason to intervene in the shopmen's strike, eastern roads with the co-operation of the western carriers are "going to the rescue."

Open Intervention by Railroad Brotherhoods

Cleveland, Aug. 4.—Open intervention by the big railroad brotherhoods to save the country from a transportation tie-up came today when Timothy Shea, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen sent a lengthy message to President Harding.

Although Shea declined to divulge the contents of the message, it is understood that it not only contained a peace plan, but virtually notified the president that the brotherhood would be unable to operate trains much longer in the face of defective equipment and irresponsible guards.

In a statement to the United Press today, Shea declared:

"Thirty per cent of the locomotives are out of service now. Within 30 days 40 per cent will be in such condition that operation will endanger the lives of trainmen. That the other 30 per cent will be out of service within another 30 days."

Shea charged that the life of the railroad unions depends upon the result of the shopmen's strike, and pointed out that the brotherhoods also would be in the path of the "railroad steam roller."

"If the shopmen are crushed, all railroad unions, including the brotherhoods, can expect the same," Shea declared.

"First are the shopmen, then will come the other weaker unions, and in the meantime, according to our contracts, the brotherhoods must remain neutral."

General Paralysis of Minnesota Industries

St. Paul, Aug. 4.—General paralysis is creeping over Minnesota industries and a prospective tie-up of all railroads in the state is predicted within three weeks unless the coal shortage is eased.

With the impending shut-down of industries, unemployment is imminent, Governor Preus warned today following a conference with Senator Kellogg.

The governor and Senator Kellogg differed as to the solution of the situation. The governor contended that the only solution is government operation of the four main lines carrying coal from the mines to the lower lake ports, while Senator Kellogg, reluctant to make a statement, is vigorously opposed to the governor's suggestion of government operation of carriers.

He does favor government control of fuel prices, however. Governor Preus indicated he would send a tele-

(By United Press) Red Wing, Minn., Aug. 4.—Three youthful posse men late Thursday captured Charles Bains, jail fugitive and slayer, after an exciting manhunt.

The capture was made at Frontenac, nine miles south of Red Wing. With the temperature about ninety, Bains led the posse of men in a desperate chase all day until finally late in the afternoon he was cornered in a small wooded lot. The posse was preparing to rush the lot when the fugitive appeared. The three youths, Clyde Johnson, Raymond Allen and Frank Olson, Red Wing lads, commanded him to halt. Bains was taken without a struggle. He was taken to the Goodhue county jail.

CAMPAIGN TO UNSEX LITERATURE STARTS TODAY IN NEW YORK

GROUP OF CENSORSHIP WILL BE CENTERED ON SPICY STORIES

(By United Press) New York, Aug. 4.—A campaign to unsex literature was started here today when some of the nation's largest publishers were called upon to blue pencil modern fiction.

The group of censorship will be centered on spicy stories that undermine the morals of the people as recommended by John S. Sumner, secretary of the New York society for suppression of vice. According to Sumner, authorities and publishers are considering the equipment of a voluntary dictatorship of all literature. Why not, when the movies have their Hays, and the baseball their Judge Landis.

Shopmen's Side of Controversy As Given by Publicity Committee

STRIKE BULLETIN NO. 4

Greetings:

The fourth week of the strike opens with three outstanding factors upon which all eyes are centered. First is the belligerent and stupid attitude of the Atterbury group in railroad circles. Second, the attention which the administration in Washington is giving to the controversy and their attempts to reason with these spoiled children of railroad management. Third, the alarming rate at which industrial paralysis is rapidly creeping over the nation.

However, the item of paramount importance is the action of Atterbury and his cohorts in upsetting the peace program which was well under way, having been subscribed to by a large number of railway executives. Let it be known that the odium of the responsibility for a continuation of this strike rests fairly upon Atterbury and his associated bourgeois, who, like the bourgeois of France, "learn nothing and forget nothing," or, to paraphrase it, they forget nothing because they have never learned anything, and they will pursue their mad course and not heed the signs that point to destruction until the whole industrial fabric falls in a mass of ruins about their ears, or until the more sober and sensible of the railway executives assert themselves and vigorously eject Atterbury, Felton, Loree, et al from the seats of the mighty; and it is our conviction that that will be done just as soon as railway management as a whole is convinced that no separate peace can be made on any railroad and that we are making a fight to purge railway management of these feudal barons and which, incidentally, is a fight that some railway executives have unsuccessfully attempted in the past. Conditions cannot much longer obtain as they are now unless our national Government is determined to permit this handful of misguided individuals to bring calamity on the whole nation and ruin to thousands of small business men, manufacturers, fruit growers, etc. Every day railroads are placing an embargo not only upon ordinary freight but upon perishables, live stock, etc.

These statements are not made with the object of bolstering a faltering army, because this army has demonstrated that it needs no bolstering, but if anything, requires to be held in check, but they are predicated upon cold statistical matter in the financial dailies of all the large cities in the country. Our strike is, therefore, a success from our point of view beyond any of our fondest dreams, and if continued in its present effectiveness it cannot fail but to bring results in the very near future;

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 4.—Coal passers, deck hands, able seamen, firemen and oilers will strike "in a few days" Thomas Conway, Buffalo, chairman of the executive committee of the Great Lakes district of the International Seamen's union, announced here today.

"BIG JOE" HUGHES HARRY M'TIGUE TO BE ARRAIGNED

CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF MARSHAL GEORGE WILLIAMS OF LONG PRAIRIE

Long Prairie, Aug. 4.—"Big Joe" Hughes and Harry McTigue were formally charged with the murder of Marshal George Williams in warrants issued today.

The two were to be arraigned this afternoon. Hughes and McTigue were arrested by a posse of national guardsmen near Sauk Center after a long chase.

Authorities are convinced they are two of the trio of bandits who attempted to rob the Hewitt State bank last Friday night and later shot and killed Marshal George Williams when he and Deputy Sheriff T. H. Adams intercepted them at a bridge near here.

KILLED 6 PERSONS DINING AT SHERBOURNE RESTAURANT IN NEW YORK

While investigators admitted their inability to unravel the crime, David Newman, 25, was rushed to St. Catherine's hospital in an effort to save his life after he had suffered since Monday from the effects of the poison.

SEEK TO BREAK DRY BLOCKADE, 3 MEN AND WHISKEY SEIZED

MOTOR BOAT OF RUM RUNNING FLEET OVERHAULED AFTER "SPIRITED" CHASE

SEVERAL SHOTS FIRED BEFORE RUNNER HEAVED TO AND RAN UP WHITE FLAG

(By United Press) Seabright, N. J., Aug. 4.—Breaking the blockade of the "dry navy" a motor boat running rum from a fleet of smugglers standing twenty miles off Fire Island, was overhauled and captured after a gun battle early today.

Three men and a quantity of whiskey was seized. The capture was made by Lieutenant James Bannon, commander of the Blue Boy, a police boat. He had been warned of the motor boat in a wireless from Inspector Bailey on the boat The Manhattan.

"Stop" shouted Lieutenant Bannon through a megaphone. "We are naval officers" was the answer. "So are we" said Lieutenant Bannon. Several shots were fired before the boat ran up the white flag.

SEVEN FOOT SNAKES CAUSE STREET PANIC

Washington, Aug. 4.—Fred K. Nielsen of Nebraska, solicitor for the state department, was nominated today by President Harding to be agent of the United States on the British-American claims commission.

and, in the language of Admiral Nelson, "Every man is expected to do his duty."

Further Strategic Points

Newspaper reports show the following: Over 350 passenger trains have been cancelled by railroads. The car situation is daily becoming more congested. Power gets worse hourly. More and more iron and steel furnaces are closing. Newspapers mention especially furnace shut-downs of Carnegie Steel Co., Bethlehem Steel Co., Republic Steel, Youngstown and Brier Hill Steel.

Three roads have placed embargoes on grain shipments. Railroads are refusing shipments urgently needed by industrial plants. Shortage of coal is slowing up the boats in New York Harbor. Steamers on the Great Lakes are having to curtail operations for lack of coal. The C. & A., the C. R. I. & P. and other roads are reported to have less than two weeks supply of coal for themselves. There is a shortage of bunker coal at Hampton Roads and 22 boats are tied up there for lack of it. Coal at that point used to come over the Virginian, Norfolk & Western and C. & O. Lumber shipments are greatly delayed. Shortage of cars shuts down several factories. (Continued on Page 4)

Bjornstad, will accompany the editors to Park Rapids, Itasca State park, and Bemidji, playing concerts daily during the five days of the outing, Aug. 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. At Park Rapids the local National Guard company as well as the town band will aid in entertaining.

MRS. MINNIE CASTOR'S SON KILLING OFFICERS AS HUSBAND HAD BEEN KILLED

STORY OF SON SAID TO PARALYZE ACT OF CARL WANDERER OF CHICAGO

(By United Press.)

San Francisco, Aug. 4.—Mrs. Minnie Castor, little and gray, her face lined with care, sat in a desolate home on Kansas street today wondering if life still held for her another tragedy.

Her cup of grief, which started filling eleven years ago, when her husband, Charles Castor, was killed by a murderer he was trying to arrest, overflowed yesterday when she saw her eldest son, Walter, kill Detective T. J. Bailey, wound Detective Ernest Gable, murder Anna Castor, the wife of her youngest son, and then kill himself.

The awful things she had witnessed—her own son killing officers of the law even as her husband had been killed—was more than she could bear. At first she raved. Today she stared blankly and said nothing.

Meantime the law was working to bind more closely around her dead son the net of circumstances which pointed to his connection with the murder of Mrs. Annie Wilkens in an alleged "framed" hold-up on Memorial Day.

Police declared they expected today's mail to bring them a letter Castor is said to have written just before yesterday's tragedy outlining his supposed part in the killing of Mrs. Wilkens.

The story they expect to receive is a parallel to the story of Carl Wanderer of Chicago who was hanged for killing his wife in a hold-up staged "allegedly" at his instance by a "mysterious stranger."

Castor, police declared, was hired by Henry Wilkens to kill Mrs. Wilkens.

Wilkens himself is now in jail charged with conspiracy in the murder.

OPERATORS, MINERS OF CENTRAL FIELDS MEET IN CLEVELAND

MAJORITY OF CENTRAL OPERATORS WILL BE REPRESENTED, IT IS REPORTED

65 PER CENT OF OPERATORS ACCEPTED INVITATION TO THE PEACE PARLEY

(By United Press)

Confidence that the coal strike would be settled at a meeting of owners and miners in Cleveland Monday, was expressed today by operators in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

John L. Lewis, from his Philadelphia headquarters, indicated the peace conference would be attended by operators representing at least 65 per cent of the central competitive field. The big railroad brotherhoods are understood to have taken a hand in an attempt for rail settlement when Timothy Shea sent a telegram to President Harding, believed to contain peace suggestions.

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—The nation wide coal strike will be settled Monday, it was predicted here today.

Operators and miners of the central competitive fields are to meet in Cleveland.

A majority of the central operators will be represented. Operators speaking for at least sixty-five per cent have accepted John L. Lewis' invitation to peace parleys. This was said at miners headquarters to be a conservative estimate.

The big vein operators association accepted, it was announced, adding considerable to high hopes for settlement.

France has threatened to seize the coal and iron mines in the Rhineland in retaliation in case the demand was not met, and to make the disputed borderland an autonomous state.

The Wirth government in the present crisis has the solid backing of all parties.

OPERATORS, MINERS OF CENTRAL FIELDS MEET IN CLEVELAND

MAJORITY OF CENTRAL OPERATORS WILL BE REPRESENTED, IT IS REPORTED

65 PER CENT OF OPERATORS ACCEPTED INVITATION TO THE PEACE PARLEY

(By United Press)

Confidence that the coal strike would be settled at a meeting of owners and miners in Cleveland Monday, was expressed today by operators in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

John L. Lewis, from his Philadelphia headquarters, indicated the peace conference would be attended by operators representing at least 65 per cent of the central competitive field. The big railroad brotherhoods are understood to have taken a hand in an attempt for rail settlement when Timothy Shea sent a telegram to President Harding, believed to contain peace suggestions.

Philadelphia, Aug. 4.—The nation wide coal strike will be settled Monday, it was predicted here today. Operators and miners of the central competitive fields are to meet in Cleveland.

A majority of the central operators will be represented. Operators speaking for at least sixty-five per cent have accepted John L. Lewis' invitation to peace parleys. This was said at miners headquarters to be a conservative estimate.

The big vein operators association accepted, it was announced, adding considerable to high hopes for settlement.

(By United Press) Paris, Aug. 4.—Germans in Alsace and Lorraine will be driven from their homes and their property confiscated unless Germany gives France a favorable reply by tomorrow noon concerning the payment of pre war commercial debts it was semi-officially stated today.

Germany Refuses Demand Berlin, Aug. 4.—Germany today refused the demand of France that $10,000,000 representing the pre war commercial debts be paid by August 15th.

Germany's refusal, based on the grounds of inability to pay, will be forwarded to Paris this afternoon. The answer to the French demands were framed at a meeting of the cabinet. France has threatened to seize the coal and iron mines in the Rhineland in retaliation in case the demand was not met, and to make the disputed borderland an autonomous state.

Women Called On to Finance Olesen Battle

Mrs. Charles A. Pillsbury is chairman of a finance committee which will solicit funds from democratic women all over the country to finance the campaign of Mrs. Anna Dickie Olesen for United States senator in Minnesota. Plans call for raising $10,000 in Minnesota and another $10,000 outside the state.

Mrs. H. B. Wiesner, Minnesota woman member of the democratic national committee, announced creation of the committee and plans for the drive. She also announced that William G. McAdoo is to come to Minnesota to speak with Mrs. Olesen at her "keynote" meeting in Crookston next month. William J. Bryan is to speak with her later at Winona and other southern Minnesota points.

Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, democratic national committee woman, is helping to direct the drive for funds, Mrs. Wiesner said, and will come to Minnesota later to help Mrs. Olesen's campaign.

MILTON MAHLUM ON LEGION WORK

District Commander Reviews Work Accomplished, Submits Report
at St. Cloud Convention

PERIOD SEPT. 1921 TO JULY 1922

Membership Increased Considerably.
Service Drive Successful, Recommendations Made

The following is the report of Milton M. Mahlum, commander Sixth District organization, American Legion, for the period from Sept. 26, 1921 to July 31, 1922, as presented to the second annual Sixth District convention at St. Cloud, July 31, 1922:

The state executive committee of the American Legion early in 1921, urged that district organizations of the Legion be formed in the ten districts of Minnesota. Following this recommendation, the Sixth District caucus, held on board the "Washington" during the session of the Legion at Winona, appointed Joyce Lewis of Long Prairie as temporary chairman of the district and instructed him to call a convention at Brainerd on September 26th, 1921, to formally organize the Sixth Congressional District of the American Legion Department of Minnesota. Following these instructions, Mr. Lewis called a convention at Brainerd and at that time a constitution was adopted and officers of the District elected. Since that time it has been the aim of the officers elected at that convention to build up the Legion
in the Sixth District and to perfect the organization which had its inception at that convention.

The membership of the Sixth district has increased considerably since the District organization was formed in spite of prevailing conditions in the country districts which have kept many of the smaller posts from getting as large a membership as they would have under normal conditions.
The highest membership was reached in December, 1921. Renewal membership have been slow in coming in,
but today we are able to report that the Sixth District is on par with the high membership mark of 1921.
December of this year should see for the Sixth District, at least 600 new members. Conditions are improving rapidly in the country districts and in the range country and this will be reflected in the growth of the posts
in the affected territory. The present National Legion drive for members will bring in a large number to the various posts of our district.
The Sixth District has sixty posts, fifty-three of which are active. A number of posts in the District have shown a decided increase in members, while others have shown a slight slump which, as stated before, we attribute to prevailing conditions in farming and mining communities.

During the time that I have been commander, I have endeavored at all times to keep the Legion in the Sixth District an active, working force.
During that time the District has been among the leaders in promoting advances which our department officers made.

The service drive in the Sixth District went over in a splendid manner and we now point with pride to the many cases that have been taken care of in our district. It is difficult to take care of these disabled men and especially difficult to get the individual cases before the Veteran's Bureau in such shape that they can be handled without delay. The service officers of posts in this district are to be congratulated on the efficient manner in which they have handled the cases which have come to them in this work. I put this first in my report, as I feel it is the work the Legion should give the most attention to. I urge that the Legion of the district continue their activity in this line and see that every case

in the district is taken care of before the end of 1922.

The district has, through the speakers' bureau, furnished many speakers for public gatherings and post meetings. Every speaker in the district was used on Memorial Day, Armistice Day, and during Educational week. The speakers have responded in a willing manner and it has been easy for the district to assign speakers on various occasions.

The adjusted compensation bill came in for much consideration during the last ten months. Every post in the Sixth District has gone on record as being in favor of a National Bonus. Many of the posts have gone to other organizations in their communities, Chamber of Commerce,
Rotary and Lion's Clubs, Kiwanis Club, Labor assemblies and asked them to endorse this adjusted compensation bill. The district officers have no information of any organization ever refusing to endorse the adjusted compensation bill. As yet we have been unsuccessful in securing a national bonus but with the renewed effort that will be put forth in the fall by the National organization, of the American Legion, it is certain that the national adjusted compensation bill will be passed.

Americanism in the district has been in charge of Hallan Huffman of Benidji. The Americanism work has probably brought out more of the true spirit of the Legion than any other work that has been done. Later in the day, Rev. Errington will talk to you on "Americanism" and tell you the naturalization work that has been done in the various parts of the district. Above all, this work should be continued and expanded throughout the district; it will have more far reaching effect than anything else the Legion could possibly do.

The Women's Auxiliary in the district has flourished especially in the last six months. Many new auxiliaries have been formed and only a few posts have not succeeded in putting in an auxiliary to date. I am assured, by every one of them,
they will put through the auxiliary organization early in the fall.

Some of our posts in the past have met with difficulty in convincing labor organizations that the Legion
was in sympathy with their cause.
The American Legion has overcome their objections and those of the Minnesota Federation of Labor and today this organization can go to a labor assembly and in every instance they will be met with hearty cooperation. The Legion, itself, is a union of ex-service men and in most cases, the Legion interests are identical with other Unions. No Post in our district has had any controversy with any labor organization.

Poppy drives were put on by every post in the district and in every instance, posts were successful in disposing of a large number. Most of the posts sent in the money to the various hospital funds within the department of Minnesota.

In the matter of dues the district has not been as successful as they would like to have been. An assessment of fifteen cents per capita membership of each post was levied. Later an additional ten cent assessment was levied. This was necessary to successfully continue the affairs of this organization. It costs considerable to run a District organization and the finance committee appointed here today should give careful consideration to the levying of dues for the coming year. No commander or adjutant should be hampered by lack of sufficient funds to carry on the organization work in the way he believes to be the best for the district. The question of dues has been raised by several posts

in the District and several of them have not as yet paid. However, the majority of Posts have paid their dues and are willing to do all they can to perfect the District Organization and to make it the best District in the Department of Minnesota.

The work of the officers of the Sixth District has required much time and also the officers have incurred considerably expense which they do not expect the District to meet. To give you an example, of the amount of work required,
your Commander has written more than 2600 letters since taking office ten months ago.

Activity for the District during the year would have been impossible had not the dues been raised to twenty-five cents per capita.

At the Wadena meeting, the executive committee decided upon using a newspaper as the official bulletin of the sixth district. However, in practice we found this would not work out to the advantage of the district and your officers took it upon themselves to discontinue this practice and all bulletins have been mailed. However, your officers believe it is essential that the district have a newspaper connection, either with some other district in the state, or the Department of Minnesota have a newspaper which can carry the news and activity of posts of the district. We trust some action will be taken in regard to this.

The size of the district has greatly hampered the work of your district officers. The district extends from Elk River on the south to Baudette, on the extreme northern border of our state. In this district, more than three hundred miles in length, it is impossible to keep in touch in the way the district headquarters should. After careful thought and study, I will recommend to the Legion in my summary a plan which I believe will work out the problems of the Sixth District in such a way that they can be handled efficiently.

The Rochester Memorial Hospital
is one of the live issues of the state at this time. This matter came up for discussion at the conference of commanders and adjutants on May 5th and 6th. Action was deferred until the state convention. I believe this matter should be brought up here today and that this district

should go on record as being either for or against the Memorial Hospital project, and to make a statement one way or the other at the state convention in Virginia next month. The picture "Cardigan" put out by the Memorial Hospital Committee has met with large patronage throughout our district and a large amount of money has been sent in to aid this fund. The Sixth District had a large number of commanders and adjutants present at the meeting in Minneapolis on May 5th and 6th and we believe more meetings of this kind should be held in the future.

Article 1. In conclusion I want to commend the work of the district adjutant, A. W. Lyddon, during the time that he has held office, and also the work of the district finance officer, J. H. Reed. Both of these men have at all times co-operated to a full extent and at all times shown a ready spirit to forward the good work of the Sixth in every way possible.

Article 2. I wish to suggest that the constitution be changed to provide for four vice commanders instead of one as at present. I suggest that one vice commander be placed in charge of Stearns, Benton, and Sherbourne counties; one vice commander in charge of Wadena, Todd and Hubbard counties, and one in charge of Beltrami and Cass counties, one in charge of Crow Wing, Morrison and Aitkin counties. I would suggest that the commander, instead of being compelled to get in touch with every county commander should get in touch with the various vice commanders. I suggest instead of holding executive committee meetings comprised of commanders
from the counties from the whole district, that each vice commander hold a meeting with the commanders of the counties under his jurisdiction.

Action was deferred until the state convention. I believe this matter should be brought up here today and that this district should go on record as being either for or against the Memorial Hospital project, and to make a statement one way or the other at the state convention in Virginia next month. The picture "Cardigan" put out by the Memorial Hospital Committee has met with large patronage throughout our district and a large amount of money has been sent in to aid this fund. The Sixth District had a large number of commanders and adjutants present at the meeting in Minneapolis on May 5th and 6th and we believe more meetings of this kind should be held in the future.

Article 1. In conclusion I want to commend the work of the district adjutant, A. W. Lydon, during the time that he has held office, and also the work of the district finance officer, J. H. Reed. Both of these men have at all times co-operated to a full extent and at all times shown a ready spirit to forward the good work of the Sixth in every way possible.

Article 2. I wish to suggest that the constitution be changed to provide for four vice commanders instead of one as at present. I suggest that one vice commander be placed in charge of Stearns, Benton, and Sherburne counties; one vice commander in charge of Wadena, Todd and Hubbard counties, and one in charge of Beltrami and Cass counties, one in charge of Crow Wing, Morrison and Aitkin counties. I would suggest that the commander, instead of being compelled to get in touch with every county commander should get in touch with the various vice commanders. I suggest instead of holding executive committee meetings comprised of commanders from the counties from the whole district, that each vice commander hold a meeting with the commanders of the counties under his jurisdiction.

THE MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY

THE Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, through their association which takes in 70 to 80 per cent of all the producers in the country, are taking a definite stand with regard to the making of better pictures. This industry has had a phenomenal growth and it is not surprising that the enormous market, with its ever increasing call for pictures, has resulted in productions of inferior grade. The producers have been required to tap every source to procure something to fill the demand. The inevitable result has been the screening of many pictures which have been lacking in both artistic quality and moral value. This, at first, did not cause any re-action on the part of the best elements in the life of the country; but the increase in crime, particularly in sex offenses, for which the questionable picture, justly or unjustly, has been blamed, gradually led to the stirring of the moral consciousness of the people. This re-action of the public has resulted in considerable hysteria, in which pictures not at all objectionable except to persons with largely developed tendencies to repression, have been condemned.

Possibly this attempt at control of the pictures has gone too far. There are always those who are ready to take advantage of anything that can be used to stir the public conscience, such as the recent serious increase in law breaking, so that they may compel the majority to submit to their peculiar prejudices. Because there are immoral, perhaps unmoral, motion picture actors and actresses in the profession, enthusiastic reformers are not justified in condemning the profession as a whole; and the screening of certain objectionable pictures is not in itself a sufficient reason for demanding that all pictures must be such as would please all the self-appointed custodians of the country's morals. Just where to draw the line is a consideration which must rest with neither the producer nor the reformer but with the public; for as uninstructed innocence is no safeguard in life's battle, neither is corrupted innocence helpful in the development of character.

Too much interference by the censor may injure the industry, just as too little consideration for the morality of the American public, on the part of the producers, may have the same effect. Therefore, the Association of Producers and Distributors, having come to the conclusion not altogether voluntarily but as the result of criticism and the work of the censor, are out to produce pictures of "the highest possible moral and artistic standard." Mr. Hays has sent to all the producers in the association a letter which is virtually an ultimatum demanding this high standard of production.

The public will watch with interest for the pictures prepared according to the new standards by which the association hopes to unite commercial advantage with artistic and moral quality. Censorship from within the association itself is much more hopeful than censorship by committees, either self-appointed or duly elected.

APPROACHING THE INACCESSIBLE

GRAND MARAIS, Minnesota, a small fishing village, until a few years ago almost inaccessible, is now one of the well known resort places, made popular by its location on the beautiful north shore drive. Nestling between the high cliffs of the north shore of Lake Superior, backed by high and rocky hills, and overlooking the clear waters of the greatest of inland lakes, the town is a most attractive one in which to dwell. As the county seat of Cook county it has secured a splendid county building and the school is an imposing structure containing splendid equipment.

The untouched resources of Cook county are almost inestimable, a fairly good grade of iron ore underlying the surface which some day will be mined after better grades have been exhausted, or when new methods have been applied, by which the ore will be produced at decreased expense. Millions of dollars worth of lumber stands just over the hills which serve Grand Marais as an effective background and shelter. A new line is being pushed into this tract so that operations will soon make inroads into the virgin timber.

The governor of the state of Minnesota has recently visited this section of the state, indicating his interest in the development of an extreme section of Minnesota, where at an early date a new hotel will be completed at a cost of $60,000, while a new highway, named after Governor Preuss, will connect Grand Marais with Ely, running through the iron ranges and the northern lake region of Minnesota.

The people of Grand Marais are no longer inaccessible to the outside world and, but this may be a far vision, when the many waterfalls along the north shore drive are harnessed, affording vast power, the very finest transportation in the state may be theirs. For then buses may be run, drawing their power from electric wires connecting Duluth with Port Arthur and operated at a low cost through utilizing the power so near at hand.

It is no more unlikely that such a splendid transportation service will be developed within the next few years than it was unthinkable, 25 years ago, that Grand Marais would be located on one of the best roads in the state of Minnesota in 1922.

THERE are two ways of ending abuses. The first way is through the voluntary ending of them by the guilty party or parties; and the other is by hindering the wrong-doer from practicing them.

IN seeking the other fellow's viewpoint; what the fish thinks about the hook, is an interesting speculation to the man who has him at the end of the line.

How industrious ants are! We wonder sometimes if they have made greater progress in settling their industrial disputes than we humans have.

WHAT a happy world this would be if the people in it did not spoil it all.

MINISTERS WHO BELIEVE IN PREPAREDNESS

Seven ministers are shown here in training at Camp Devens, Mass., and thoroughly believe in the doctrine of preparedness. They are, Rev. J. Donohue, 1st Lieut. and Roman Catholic; Hal. C. Head, 1st Lieut. and Baptist; Harvey C. Freser, Senior Chaplain; Theodore R. Ludlow, 1st Lieut. and Episcopal; Capt. G. B. Cornish, Chaplain in the army; D. Harold Hickey, Capt. and Methodist-Episcopal; Major Herbert S. Johnson, Baptist; Colonel Nichols of the army is standing behind the firing line giving instructions to the clergymen.

PUNGENT PARAGRAPHS

Slacker lists sent out by the War Department from Headquarters of the 7th corps area, Omaha, Neb., are printed on yellow paper.

After buying a lake lot and building a cottage and getting a pump which gives clear, cold water, the next big undertaking requiring serious, earnest thought is to get an original name for the whole establishment. A favorite way is to get a syllable from the name of every member of the family and make a composite name which sometimes tests the powers of enunciation and has to be explained to the visitors.

Judging from the name of the place, getting married and living in Eden Valley ought to be a perpetual honeymoon.

It was a scene for photographers, for "heart interest" writers, for lovers of boyhood, to have been in the municipal court Thursday when the chief of police marshalled an army of kids found bathing minus clothes in the Mississippi in city limits. Each kid was accompanied by his best friend. And who do you suppose was the best friend? Not pa, nor ma, nor big brothers, nor big sister, nor a Rotarian, nor an Elk. It was merely each kid's woolly, measly looking, little dog. Each kid kept tight hold on his pup, so that there would be no general dog fight in the court room. Judge J. H. Warner solemnly and sternly faced the assemblage of kids and dogs and reviewed the heinous crime of bathing in the river minus clothes or anything else.

When it comes to shooting pictures with your own little camera, have you ever noticed that the most to be desired picture always turns out a near or complete failure?

This dual coal and transportation strike seems to have resolved itself into a question of endurance and when the great American public gets tired and out of patience with allowing the problem to adjust itself it will speedily be settled by the people themselves.

Some Brainerd people imagine they still have the right of allowing cattle to graze at will on peoples' lawns and in their gardens. South side householders are investing in halibut and some night when Bossy does not show up, she probably will be found tied up on such owner's lot where the offending cow owner can pay for the damage done by the cow.

tories. Railroads are moving only part of the perishable fruit crops of California, Michigan, Georgia and Florida.

Large number of passenger trains are late everywhere. Fast freights between Chicago and New York are between 24 and 48 hours late. Of course part of all this curtailment may be to deceive us and to save power and thereby prolong the struggle. But only part. By far the greater part is forced upon them.

Despite these difficulties business conditions continue to improve and employment steadily increases. This rising tide of business is putting more and more pressure on the roads to move traffic.

Last week's bulletin told you of the split between the railroad managers. The split is becoming deeper and wider. And now, as traffic slows up and the business men's and bankers' loans and credit on goods in transit begins to "freeze," there is coming a split in the ranks of the bankers. The bankers who are mainly interested in commerce will oppose the hardboiled investment bankers in New York who caused all this trouble.

Straws show which way the wind blows. The financial columns of the Philadelphia Public Ledger for July 18th stated that the settlement of the strike "is likely to be dictated more by expediency than consideration for sound economic principles." That is to say, some of the Wall street interests are already admitting that they have got to settle on terms they don't like. Probably the Cuylers and Atterburys and Lorees have got to have their noses rubbed in the dirt a while longer before they will give up their medieval ideas about labor organizations and permit the other railroad executives to give a square deal of the employees and thereby give service to the public. That little group of wilful men is daily growing smaller and weaker, while our forces are increasing in number and strength.

General Foch told his soldiers that "One defeats the enemy not by individual and complete annihilation, but by destroying his hopes of victory." We have destroyed the hopes of victory of a large number of railroad executives and bankers. They have ceased to believe they can win. They are thinking now of the kind of settlement they must make.

One of the greatest elements in destroying their morale is their surprise due to the wonderful unity of feeling and sustained action by our membership everywhere, and growing tide of additions to our ranks. Every individual striker has contributed to this.

Also we have large groups of public opinion with us. That weakens our opponents.

Our position is morally and legally right. There is morally and legally wrong. Our ranks are gaining in numbers and solidity. Theirs are dividing. Time tells in our favor with steadily accumulating weight.

We are winning!

Practical Teaching

There has been inaugurated in a U. S. Veterans' Bureau School a course in retail salesmanship for disabled trainees. The initial enrollment was about fifty. The course will be given with the cooperation of five large retail stores. After a preliminary training the pupils will be placed in the stores from eleven to one o'clock, or from twelve to two o'clock daily.

The aim of the work is to give such training to the partially disabled men that they will have sufficient advantages and desirability, from the employer's viewpoint, over the prospective competitor to compensate for their physical dis-qualifications.

The band concert Wednesday evening was conceded by all to be the best one held so far this season. Every number received a rousing encore from an audience larger than has been in attendance previously this season. Naturally, the enthusiasm of the audience is contagious, and affected the musicians accordingly.

A special feature of Wednesday evening's concert was the solo work of a Mr. Ward, an ex-service man who lost his arm since returning from the war in an electrical accident, who is out through the country raising funds to replace it with an artificial member. He received good support in the city.

TRANSOM THIEF GETS GOLD FROM DENTISTS

Heavy Losses of Gold, Completed Dental Bridge, Etc., Sustained by Dr. J. A. McGinn

DR. M. CARLSON VICTIM TOO

Dentists of the City Now Barring and Bolting Their Transoms to Shut Out Intruders

Rather a nifty robbery was staged at the office of Dr. J. A. McGinn, dentist in the Iron Exchange building, when some thief climbed through the transom during the other night and took all of the doctor's supply of gold, even to the gold filings, dust and a completed dental bridge.

Upon discovering the theft, Dr. McGinn called up his dentist friends to warn them, and shortly after Dr. Melvin Carlson received his warning he telephoned back to Dr. McGinn, saying that upon examination he had found that his total supply of gold had been appropriated also, the thief entering by the same route as he did at McGinn's.

Dr. Carlson thinks that he has the robber's measurements, as his transom is a small one, and a man of average proportions could not gain entrance through it.

Dentists in the city will no doubt bolt and bar their transoms in the future. To date no clue has been found as to who is the guilty party. Certain it is, however, that he is no ordinary thief, his taste for gold being too well cultivated.

County Engineer Walter Murphy returned last evening from St. Paul, where he was present at the letting of minor contracts for the surfacing and grading small pieces of roads connecting highways already completed. None of these contracts was for work in Crow Wing county.

Mr. Murphy has some interesting news for county travelers in the assurance that the cut-off road from Riverton to Ironton along the south side of Blackhoof Lake will be surveyed at once and work completed this fall.

This new road will take the place of the winding road not often used that leaves the Riverton road about a mile south of that town and comes into Ironton from the south. It will be a better road to the mining towns, inasmuch as there will be no fallroad to cross, and fewer chances for accidents.

SHORTSTOP SCOTT'S GREAT RECORD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 4.—Players, managers and fans never will agree on who has the hardest job in baseball. Seeking a less complicated subject of argument, it might be debated who has the softest job in baseball.

The answer just bangs in without a chance for a comeback. Johnny Mitchell has the easiest place the game ever offered. Mitchell is with the New York Yanks and he is the shortstop understudy for Everett "Deacon" Scott.

Scott hasn't missed a game since June 20, 1916.

Soft? Soft!

On June 26 Scott played in his 900th consecutive game and he is still going along piling up a record that it's a 1000 to 1 shot never will be equalled.

In comparison, the previous record of 577 started in 1885 by George Pickney, of the Brooklyn American Association Club, does not look like a good starter.

If you are a good friend of the Deacon's don't ask him how many games he has played or how many he is shooting at. His natural modesty is reinforced by the superstition that it's not well to talk about it.

His friends on the Yankee club, however, are responsible for the tip that he is aiming for a record of 1000 straight games and by that time he will have become so firmly addicted to the habit that he will just keep going until something stops him.

Scotty claims that he never keeps track of the progress of his high run and that he didn't know he had passed the 900 mark until he read about it in the papers.

For a shortstop who is in the way of cannon ball drives of the rabbit ball and who day after day is in the path of glistened spikes coming into second base, it is remarkable that he could go practically seven full seasons without missing one game.

It is not the broken bones from a sizzling drive or the mean gashes from spike blades that Scott fears most. His former buddies with the Red Sox, now with him on the Yanks, say his most feared Nemesis is a dose of boils.

In addition to being sport's greatest example of an iron man, Scott is baseball's finest fielding shortstop, one of the games brainiest players, a deadly batter in a pinch and a personality that is an asset on any ball club.

He is popular with the players and fans, respected and admired by his employers and faithful to his ideals of duty. What else is there?

George Kelly, first baseman of the Giants, has missed only one game in three years and Jimmy Johnston, of the Robins, has played in 473 consecutive games when he was forced out early in July. Just little flickers, however, against such a glaring light.

Professional boxing is admitted to have a number of serious ailments, but William Muldoon, chairman of the New York commission, recently pointed out the most dangerous ill when he blamed the manager's avarice and greed for most of the troubles.

Just so they can make matches and get the jack, most of the managers care little for what the public gets of it or their own charges, either, when it gets down to hard cases.

That does not hold for all managers. Some of them are real credits to the game—and some are not.

No baseball manager would take a rookie pitcher, send him in to be knocked all over the lot by the league leaders and then toss him aside.

That's what was done with Hymie Gold, the California lightweight, and money was made on it.

CHICAGO CAR STRIKE END DECLARED NEAR

COMPANY SUBMITS PEACE TERM TO MEN—BOTH SIDES PRE- DICT EARLY SETTLEMENT

Chicago, Aug. 4.—End of Chicago's transportation tieup was seen today as leaders in the traction war met for settlement of the strike.

Peace terms extended the strikers today by President Henry A. Blair of the Chicago surface lines will be carried to a mass meeting of the men today by their chiefs. Both sides predicted an agreement would be reached today or tomorrow.

An army of replacement men was reported ready to run the cars in event of failure of the warring factions to get together on Blair's terms.

"The cars will have to move," said Blair. "The present conditions cannot continue much longer."

Blair's offer to negotiate with the men on a 5 cent wage basis, hitherto a stumbling block, was regarded as the most hopeful sign of peace.

The one hitch in negotiations was the prospect of further fare slashes by the Illinois commerce commission with consequent wage cuts.

The commerce commission made it plain it would not agree to a "hands off fares policy" to bring about a settlement of the car controversy.

Blair's offer for settlement of the strike carried a 30-day cancellation clause, designated to leave the way open for another wage reduction should the commerce commission order a further fare slash.

City officials and business men will today discuss the traction war. Those in close touch with the situation predicted the men would be back on their jobs and all cars resume running, by Friday or Saturday.

Motor traffic today was well organized, and moved without a hitch in the busiest downtown districts.

AMUSEMENTS

Hope Hampton in Leading Role
Maurice Tourneur has assembled a notable cast for his latest Paramount picture, "The Bait," which is showing at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Saturday.

The leading role is assumed by Hope Hampton, the Texas beauty, who leaped into film fame practically overnight. Harry Woodward, who will be remembered from Cecil B. De Mille's "Male and Female" and Tourneur's "Deep Waters," has the male lead. Jack McDonald, who has been menacing our heroes and heroines in such pictures as "Deep Waters," plays the "heavy." James Gordon, with Hobart Bosworth in "Behind the Door" and in George Melford's "The Sea Wolf," and Joe Singleton, who supported William S. Hart in "The Toll Gate," are also in the cast.

of the government in the rail strike crisis was discussed at a lengthy session of the cabinet at the White House executive chamber today.

For three hours and 20 minutes heads of the government agencies analyzed reports of the situation from various sections of the country, and talked over the possibilities of government intervention in an effort to stave off demoralization of transportation.

No formal announcement of the results obtained was given.

President's Compromise Plan

Washington, Aug. 4.—An effort to settle the strike of the southern railway by use of President Harding's compromise settlement plan will be made here tomorrow when officials of the road with representatives of the strikers meet.

Southern officials had notified their shopmen that they were ready to accept the president's plan which includes return of full seniority rights.

The shopmen are in a peculiar position, for while Bert M. Jewell, their national leader, has announced himself against sectional agreement, the conference of strikers leaders stands favorable to the president's settlement plan.

ORE ROYALTIES MAY BREAK ALL RECORDS

STATE MINE SHIPMENTS FOR WEEK ENDING JULY 22 SET NEW HIGH MARK

Receipts from iron ore royalties by the state of Minnesota may break all previous records this year. Shipments from state mines for the week ending July 22 were the largest of any week on record, the records of the state auditor showed today, and while shipments up to that time for the year were under those of 1920 for the same period, a continuance of heavy movement the rest of this year will make 1922 the banner year.

The present increase in shipments is due to the activity of the Missabe Mountain mine at Virginia, a state lease with more than 50,000,000 estimated tonnage in sight. It is reported this one mine will ship 3,000,000 tons for the season. In the week of July 22, it shipped 225,890 tons, the heaviest movement from a state lease of any week in history. Shipments from all state mines totaled 359,603 tons, and for the year up to July 22 they were 1,972,811 tons. Shipments for the same period in 1921 were only 1,262,419 tons, but in 1920 they came to 2,388,642 tons. The total for that year, the banner year so far, was 5,918,985 tons.

The Missabe Mountain mine shipped 1,816,178 tons in 1921 and 2,355,412 tons in 1920. Its total shipments up to Jan. 1, 1922, were 9,541,394 tons. The state gets 25 cents a ton royalty for the permanent school fund, which already has realized nearly $2,500,000 from this one mine, and will get more than $12,000,000 more. This mine

At N. D. Editorial Meeting
Devils Lake, Aug. 4.—A report on the apprentice school, a new undertaking launched last year by the North Dakota Press association, will be given by M. I. Forkner, of the Cavalier County Republican, of Langdon, at the state editorial meeting here today.

Dearth of printers led to the suggestion last year that efforts be made to establish trade schools for the young men who aspire to be printers. The newspaper men were welcomed to the city by A. V. Haig, president of the commission. Edward Sullivan, of New Salem, made the response and greetings from the Northern Minnesota Editorial association were extended by A. L. La Freniere, of Grand Rapids, Minn., president.

The morning session was devoted to officers' reports. Governor Nestos was on the program this afternoon.

New Apprentice School

Devils Lake, Aug. 4.—The "Hans Sluggs" the stay-away-from-editorial-meeting-publishers, were attacked by A. L. La Freniere, of Grand Rapids, Minn., here today. "It is our problem to reach this class of publishers," he declared.

La Freniere extended the greeting of the Northern Minnesota Editorial association of which he is president, to the North Dakota Press association here today. "There are still enough of this class of country publishers to almost demoralize the country's news and printing business," he charged.

"They are the ones who charge $1.00 for a piece of printing because the printer receives 75 cents an hour for his work and still thinks they are making a profit."

Such a man, he said, never attends the editorial meeting to get an injection of pep to tell his shopping customers to take it to Jones if Jones will do it for less than half a fair price.

La Freniere attributes the beginning of his successful newspaper business to the first editorial meeting he happened to attend.

SHORTSTOP SCOTT'S GREAT RECORD

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 4.—Players, managers and fans never will agree on who has the hardest job in baseball. Seeking a less complicated subject of argument, it might be debated who has the softest job in baseball.

The answer just bangs in without a chance for a comeback. Johnny Mitchell has the easiest place the game ever offered. Mitchell is with the New York Yanks and he is the shortstop understudy for Everett "Deacon" Scott.

Scott hasn't missed a game since June 20, 1916. Soft? Soft!

On June 26 Scott played in his 900th consecutive game and he is still going along piling up a record that it's a 1000 to 1 shot never will be equalled.

In comparison, the previous record of 577 started in 1885 by George Pickney, of the Brooklyn American Association Club, does not look like a good starter.

If you are a good friend of the Deacon's don't ask him how many games he has played or how many he is shooting at. His natural modesty is reinforced by the superstition that it's not well to talk about it.

His friends on the Yankee club, however, are responsible for the tip that he is aiming for a record of 1000 straight games and by that time he will have become so firmly addicted to the habit that he will just keep going until something stops him.

Scotty claims that he never keeps track of the progress of his high run and that he didn't know he had passed the 900 mark until he read about it in the papers.

For a shortstop who is in the way of cannon ball drives of the rabbit ball and who day after day is in the path of glistening spikes coming into second base, it is remarkable that he could go practically seven full seasons without missing one game.

It is not the broken bones from a sizzling drive or the mean gashes from spike blades that Scott fears most. His former buddies with the Red Sox, now with him on the Yanks, say his most feared Nemesis is a dose of boils.

In addition to being sport's greatest example of an iron man, Scott is baseball's finest fielding shortstop, one of the games brainiest players, a deadly batter in a pinch and a personality that is an asset on any ball club.

He is popular with the players and fans, respected and admired by his employers and faithful to his ideals of duty. What else is there?

George Kelly, first baseman of the Giants, has missed only one game in three years and Jimmy Johnston, of the Robins, has played in 473 consecutive games when he was forced out early in July. Just little flickers, however, against such a glaring light.

Professional boxing is admitted to have a number of serious ailments, but William Muldoon, chairman of the New York commission, recently pointed out the most dangerous ill when he blamed the manager's avarice and greed for most of the troubles.

Just so they can make matches and get the jack, most of the managers care little for what the public gets of it or their own charges, either, when it gets down to hard cases.

That does not hold for all managers. Some of them are real credits to the game—and some are not.

No baseball manager would take a rookie pitcher, send him in to be knocked all over the lot by the league leaders and then toss him aside.

That's what was done with Hymie Gold, the California lightweight, and money was made on it.

congratulated the North Dakota members of the association "on their wonderfully brave fight against the infamous printing law put across by the predatory interests which under the guise of fighting 'big business' almost throttled your state and which rode rough shod over precedent and merit and fairness."

He asserted that they had "weathered the storm left you the most sturdy the stronger and the more tried and true."

In closing he invited the North Dakota publishers to the summer outing of the Minnesota editors August 10 to 13 at Lake Itasca "one of the prettiest natural playgrounds of the world."

Chicago, Aug. 4.—End of Chicago's transportation tieup was seen today as leaders in the traction war met for settlement of the strike.

Peace terms extended the strikers today by President Henry A. Blair of the Chicago surface lines will be carried to a mass meeting of the men today by their chiefs. Both sides predicted an agreement would be reached today or tomorrow.

An army of replacement men was reported ready to run the cars in event of failure of the warring factions to get together on Blair's terms.

"The cars will have to move," said Blair. "The present conditions cannot continue much longer."

Blair's offer to negotiate with the men on a 5 cent wage basis, hitherto a stumbling block, was regarded as the most hopeful sign of peace.

The one hitch in negotiations was the prospect of further fare slashes by the Illinois commerce commission with consequent wage cuts.

The commerce commission made it plain it would not agree to a "hands off fares policy" to bring about a settlement of the car controversy.

Blair's offer for settlement of the strike carried a 30-day cancellation clause, designated to leave the way open for another wage reduction should the commerce commission order a further fare slash.

City officials and business men will today discuss the traction war. Those in close touch with the situation predicted the men would be back on their jobs and all cars resume running, by Friday or Saturday.

Motor traffic today was well organized, and moved without a hitch in the busiest downtown districts.

AMUSEMENTS

Hope Hampton in Leading Role
Maurice Tourneur has assembled a notable cast for his latest Paramount picture, "The Bait," which is showing at the Lyceum theatre tonight and Saturday.

The leading role is assumed by Hope Hampton, the Texas beauty, who leaped into film fame practically overnight. Harry Woodward, who will be remembered from Cecil B. De Mille's "Male and Female" and Tourneur's "Deep Waters," has the male lead. Jack McDonald, who has been menacing our heroes and heroines in such pictures as "Deep Waters," plays the "heavy." James Gordon, with Hobart Bosworth in "Behind the Door" and in George Melford's "The Sea Wolf," and Joe Singleton, who supported William S. Hart in "The Toll Gate," are also in the cast.
